

An aerial photograph of an industrial area. A red arrow points to a site located between a large highway interchange on the left and a large industrial complex with several long, white-roofed buildings at the bottom. The site is characterized by a series of parallel, light-colored rectangular structures, possibly solar panels or a large parking lot. Surrounding the site are various industrial buildings, parking lots, and green spaces.

K - PLAN

K - P L A N

[illegible]