Who we are
Veeco helps the company to recognize and consolidate its identity by managing a fundamental asset, its values, to improve strategic positioning.

Identity values are the elements of corporate cohesion and engines of the sense of corporate belonging. They are the prerequisite for optimizing people management, facilitate the dissemination and understanding of sustainability, support development and innovation, promote governance, in the unique context where values—sustainability—KPIs are coherent.

Product description
The value intelligence platform is the technology that measures the value system that the company exchanges with the stakeholders.
Computer ontologies and machine learning algorithms are the tools that bring out the information heritage of values that the company includes in the documentation produced and is present among employees, customers and suppliers.

Claim/production description
We offer companies The value intelligence platform, a modular and scalable solution based on Api management system technology able to interact with the companies information systems. Other technologies that we use to interact with our systems, are artificial intelligence, business intelligence and advanced assessment analyses.

Contacts
T. +39 02 77428030
ana@veeco.it

www.veeco.it